Taking TIME OUT

Along the road to Yzerfontein

It seems that the number '32 on board' is what I seem to be having of late. We all set off for a day 'in-the-sun' and for once I was correct with the Cape Weather! We experienced an awesome day - warm/windless/with a bit of a chill in the wind! A typical Autumn day in the Western Cape. First stop was the Vyevallei farm stall - perhaps one of these days we might be called 'share-holders' in this business! Next stop was the beach at Yzerfontein. Their beach front is a beautiful, paved and very clean area.

A beach walk seemed optional, and a few ladies really 'strode-out' doing training for their Namibian trip! A short ride to view the beach front properties before we arrived at Blikaspaai where Melani had set out sherry / cheese / olives / biltong for our enjoyment - she was rewarded - her tills rang out! Next we met Marais (the host) and Evert (the chef) at Die Rooi Granaat. What an exceptional meal we all enjoyed with true West Coast Hospitality. Marais even went outside and brought succulents for some of the ladies to take home. The French Beef hot pot and the Pear Bake or Chocolate Dessert were to-die-for! What a fabulous meal.

Marais (the host), the staff of Die Rooi Granaat and Evert (the chef) all lined up outside to wave us goodbye—W.Coast hospitality @ it's very best!!

MAY: Destination WELLINGTON

The Stone Kitchen—sit in the Winery @ Dunstone Wines

Brian and I decided to go out for a drive to Wellington over the Easter Weekend, and we 'stumbled across' the Stone Kitchen in Wellington. This restaurant forms part of the Bo Vlei Valley Retreat. There is a 4* graded guest house and a 5* graded self catering cottage. I will try arrange a 'site visit' for you all of this lovely guest house prior to our lunch.

The Bo Vlei Valley Retreat also boasts their own boutique winery. This property is all set on a working wine, lavender and fruit estate in Wellington. Idyllically situated at the foot of the historic Bains Kloof pass and the towering Limietberg Mountains. This area is rich in history.

The Stone Kitchen Restaurant is actually part of the winery.
