"Change is as good as a holiday" – or so the saying goes. Today the change was that we went straight to lunch in Somerset West! Arriving at about 11h00 at Pajamas and Jam in the Gants Plaza industrial area of Strand, many positive comments were heard about this new venue. "An amazing place to lunch" – our choices were put up on a blackboard and what a choice we all had. What about Parmesan Pasta / Seared Salmon Salad/ Watercress chicken salad / Thai Beef wok / Blushing Beetroot/ and to end it all delicious, decadent Meringue tarts!

Having made the choice, our lunches were served very efficiently – table by table! Delicious meals and a fabulous ambience to eat lunch with Greek music playing the background. Definitely, a place to return to again!

A few went shopping at the Angel Shoe shop within walking distance – nothing like a new pair (or two) of shoes! Whilst at the shoe shop, news broke of a helicopter crash just near us. A one-man helicopter had sadly, crashed into the school ground with a fatality. The ladies in the shoe shop reported seeing the helicopter battling, sad to see ambulances rushing to the scene.

After this a short drive down to the Strand pavilion where we arrived at 1.30pm (see what having an early lunch does – it gives you a full afternoon to enjoy!) Some went for a walk ; some chatted ; some went shopping!! and the hour quickly passed.

Constantia was our first drop off at just 3.45 pm ("Wow how great is this to be home this early") and Tableview were home by about 4.30pm.

Now that's what I'd call
QUALITY TIME OUT, Dennis!

Time Out Explores Elgin!

Things change in Elgin and I have found a new restaurant to take you to in October. Brian and I recently visited The Rojaal Teekamer and met with Charmaine, the owner of this restaurant which has been built in an old barn. It has lovely views and she is enthusiastic at what she is trying to achieve.

When we visit Elgin, it is a day before the annual Elgin Garden Show - so we might just be able to spend our time profitably in the Elgin valley profitably. I have read of an eco-art exhibition at Almemkerk Estate / I'm busy speaking to Windermere Cider - they also have an 80 year old garden which they might just open to us a day before, for viewing.

Come with me to experience Country hospitality

Why not Langebaan?

There is a NEW KID-ON-THE-BLOCK in Langebaan called KOKOMO.
It is on Friday Island—perfect setting to have a laid back end to our hectic year!

Come with me to Langebaan and relax and enjoy the company of each other before the HECTIC Festive Season approaches!

More details in the November newsletter.

Mel sadly had a fall whilst out doing shopping on Friday 16th September. She's had pins put in her hip and is battling with a shoulder injury as well. She spent a week in Milnerton Medi-clinic and is now at Oasis Step-down facility. She will go to her daughter, Barbie for a while after this, to recover completely. Have her in your thoughts please! Messages can be sent to Barbie: Barbara@kabtech.co.za
