OCTOBER 2018

TIME TO GO TO THE ANNA BEULAH FARM

We headed out on our September outing to the Anna Beulah farm just outside Durbanville. Such a short distance from Tableview that some ladies suggested we should have 'walked'!

It was a cold, almost dismal grey day but Hendrik and Marti greeted us so very warmly and served us hot coffee and tea or hot chocolate coupled with muffins / cheese scones and jam, butter and cheese. After this, our coach driver took us for a drive around the farm - to their private venue room - to see the chickens - and then when it was time to see the Llamas and sheep 'the artists amongst us' had to get on with their work!

Six of us chose a ceramic piece to paint on and we set to creating our very own masterpieces. Such intense concentration that we forgot to talk! Within 3/4 of an hour the most amazing pieces started to emerge! Now all that remains is for Marti to fire them in the kiln and Carol will collect them in 3 weeks! So great to be creative on a cold, wintery-like day!

Lunch comprised a huge bowl of creamy chicken pasta, served with home grown vegetables from the farm all around the dish. Then we had a delicious chocolate lemon dessert served with a yoghurt cream topping! All in all a wonderful day - some went home with loads of fresh farm grown vegetables, lovingly picked by the staff at Anna Beulah Farm.

CORKAGE

*It's DURBANVILLE again
but this time,
with a bit of history!*

We start at the Durbanville Rose Garden

At the end of October, the roses should be blooming! We will start our morning off at the Durbanville Rose Garden. The garden houses over 5000 blooms of 600 different species! There is a tea room where you may enjoy a cup of tea or coffee.

We then head to the Evertsdaal Opstal Restaurant. This restaurant and homestead is one of the oldest historically significant buildings in SA. The history of this property has been traced back to 1680, 28 years after Jan van Riebeeck had landed in the Cape!

Evertsdaal Opstal does not serve wine. SO, once again BYO , BUT this time they do charge R20 a bottle corkage!

END OF THE YEAR ALREADY!

Can you believe it?
It's almost NOVEMBER already.
Come with me, for our last Time Out trip of the year,
to the Breedekloof
I am still trying to arrange a visit to the Tulip Farm—Prominent Tulips which now belongs to an American company called BLOOMIA. (Last visited in 2011)
